* Give the answer of following questions.

Q1 Why did the young students feel reasonably 'secure'?

Ans-1 There were flashes of lightning and the signals of a storm on that dark summer night. It was not a night in which any witness whose word could be depended on was likely to be moving about cemetery. So, the three men who were there, digging into the grave of Henry Armstrong, felt reasonably secure.

Q2 What were the horse and the wagon waiting for? Why were they outside the wall?

Ans-2 The horse and the wagon would be used to transfer the dead body to the dissecting room of the medical college. They were outside the wall so that no one would become suspicious about their presence or ask questions.

Q3 How do you know that Jess was of 'another breed'?

Ans-3 Jess did not run away in terror. His daring response to the unusual sight showed that he was both brave and practical.

Q4 The two medical students were still in a frightened state the next day. How do you know this?

Ans-4 The two medical student were still in a frightened state the next day because their facial expressions - pallid and ~~haggard~~ haggard from anxiety and terror showed also, their short verbal exchange, 'You saw it', shows that the image of the 'dead' man rising was still fresh in their minds.

5 Discuss and write:

Q1 Why do you think the students wanted the dead body?

Ans The students wanted the dead body because they needed the dead body to study anatomy.

Q2 What agreement do you think the students had made with Jess?

Ans-2 Students would have promised Jess to pay for the dead body.

Q3 The students were secure about what they were doing because of the absence of any witnesses. Do you think they had any sense of guilt? Justify your response.

Ans3 No, they had no sense of guilty because they were removing the dead body to study anatomy.
